DOHEN Q. GALLAGHER

Senior Associate / St. Louis
dgallagher@fordharrison.com / P: 314-257-0315

Dohen Gallagher's legal practice is entirely focused on the representation of management clients in issues related to employment law.

Dohen has extensive experience in all aspects of trial preparation, including drafting appropriate responses to claims, file analysis, investigation, depositions, and medical and legal research.

Prior to joining FordHarrison, Dohen was an associate in a St. Louis based firm focused on the representation of employers in workers' compensation claims. While in law school, Dohen was a member of the Employment Law Association and served as a managing editor of the ABA Journal of Labor & Employment Law. As a law clerk, she also gained experience assisting in ERISA and personal injury claims. In 2021, Dohen also had the opportunity to intern with the National Labor Relations Board (NLRB) where she handled unfair labor practice charges and employee representation claims filed under the National Labor Relations Act (NLRA).

Dohen is a member of the Missouri Bar Association, the National Workers' compensation Defense Network and the Women's Business Enterprise National Council.

In her free time, Dohen enjoys spending time with her friends and family, riding bikes, and reading anything she can get her hands on.

Representative Experience

- Managed a high volume of pro se claims against large multinational vehicle manufacturers, resulting in multiple settlements below approved authority.
- Assisted in the successful resolution of multiple ERISA claims through mediation.
- Assisted in leading an NLRB claims investigation against a federal agency and advising the position the Region needed to take on the matter.
