

2015 Global Labor & Employment Law Symposium

Global Connections

Ius Laboris and FordHarrison are pleased to jointly host our 2015 Global Labor & Employment Symposium. Colleagues from Ius Laboris, the global Alliance of leading labor and employment law firms, will join in-house counsel to discuss the challenges facing many international employers from around the world.

With 1,300 labor and employment lawyers from 46 countries, Ius Laboris law firms manage multinational HR law projects around the world. With a network of best friends, Ius Laboris commonly covers up to 100 countries, delivering advice wherever companies may be.

 May 7 - 8, 2015 Renaissance Chicago Downtown May 7

11:00 AM - 12:30 PM: Pre-conference workshops

12:30 PM - 5:00 PM: Conference sessions

6:00 PM: Field Museum Reception

May 8

9:00 AM - 1:30 PM: Conference sessions

The conference is aimed at In-house counsel, human resources executives and employee relations professionals in all sectors.

The conference program includes plenary sessions, breakout groups and a special track for the airline industry. Approval is pending for continuing education including HRCI and CLE in several states.

Attendees are invited to an evening of cocktails and food from around the world at the impressive Field Museum.

How to register for this event

 Register online at www.chicago2015.iuslaboris.com

For questions

 Ius Laboris +32 2 761 46 10
FordHarrison +1 404 888 3921 events@iuslaboris.com or clientservice@fordharrison.com

Program includes:

Pre-conference workshops:

- ▶ Managing international labor and employment projects
- ▶ Airline industry workshop: what's new in California?

General employment sessions:

- ▶ Employee relations in a globalized economy: how are multinational companies responding to cross-border issues?
- ▶ Corrupt practices in foreign operations: where does a company's accountability start and finish?
- ▶ Employee terminations outside the US: is the rest of the world really that different?
- ▶ To what extent are corporations responsible for the conduct of their suppliers outside of the US?
- ▶ The worldwide data privacy conundrum: protection of privacy or European arrogance?
- ▶ How free are companies to move employees around the world and select key staff from outside home countries?
- ▶ To what extent can companies enforce non-compete agreements and confidentiality agreements extraterritorially?
- ▶ Workplace investigations: where do you draw the line?
- ▶ 153 countries have signed up to the ILO Declaration of Freedom of Association, what does this mean for your international operations?

Airline industry topics:

- ▶ Common issues, best strategies: what can we learn from our international colleagues?
- ▶ Effective workplace attendance and ability management
- ▶ Aviation employment law update: the growing impact of state law
- ▶ Developing a comprehensive labor strategy: partnering a labor strategy with the business plan - a case study

The registration fee is $195 for clients and $245 for non-clients. Discount available for multiple bookings from the same company. Pre-conference workshops, breakfast, lunch and cocktails are included in the registration fee. There is a discounted hotel rate for conference participants. The registration closes on March 23.